

Greg Padilla Bail Bonds Forms Instructions

An indemnitor means a person or company that gives indemnity. Indemnity is defined as protection or security against damage or loss.

Exonerated: to clear, as of an accusation; free from guilt or blame.

The defendant and indemnitor(s) are also responsible for any cost incurred, resulting from the defendant failure to appear in court. The Superior Court charges fees to reinstate and exonerate bail bonds. Each court has their own set fee schedule.

A defendant and the indemnitor or co signor are responsible for the entire penal amount of the bail bond until it is exonerated by the court. (Exonerated: to clear, as of an accusation; free from guilt or blame.)
